CHERRY PECTORAL
For the Cure of
COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING-COUGH, CROUP, ASTHMA, AND CONSUMPTION.

AND FOR THE RELIEF OF PATIENTS IN ADVANCED STAGES OF CONSUMPTION.

Many years of trial, instead of impairing the public confidence in this medicine, has won for it an appreciation and notoriety by far exceeding the most sanguine expectations of its friends. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues and the unmistakable benefit it has conferred upon thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community, have failed, and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

While it is a fraud upon the public to pretend that any one medicine will infallibly cure—still there is abundant proof that the Cherry Pectoral does not only a general thing, but almost invariably, cure the maladies for which it is employed.

As time makes these facts wider and better known, this medicine has gradually become the best reliance of the afflicted, from the log-cabin of the American peasant, to the palaces of European kings. Throughout this entire country, in every State, city, and indeed almost every hamlet it contains, Cherry Pectoral is known as the best remedy extant for diseases of the Throat and Lungs—and in many foreign countries, it is coming to be extensively used by their most intelligent Physicians. In Great Britain, France and Germany, where the medical sciences have reached their highest perfection, Cherry Pectoral is introduced, and in constant use in the Armies, Hospitals, Alms Houses, Public Institutions, and in domestic practice, as the surest remedy their attending Physicians can employ for the more dangerous affections of lungs. Also in milder cases, and for children it is safe, pleasant, and effectual to cure. In fact, some of the most flattering testimonials we receive have been from parents who have found it efficacious in cases particularly incidental to childhood.

The Cherry Pectoral is manufactured by a practical Chemist, and every ounce of it under his own eye, with invariable accuracy and care. It is sealed and protected by law from counterfeits, consequently can be relied on as genuine without adulteration.

We have endeavored here to furnish the community with a medicine of such intrinsic superiority and worth as should commend itself to their confidence—a remedy at once safe, speedy and effectual, which this has by repeated and conclusive trials proved itself to be; and trust by great care in preparing it with chemical accuracy, of uniform strength to afford Physicians a new agent on which they can rely for the best results, and the afflicted with a remedy that will do for them all that medicine can do.

THE GREAT REMEDY FOR Coughs, Colds and Consumptions.

The VEGETABLE PULMONARY BALSAM is positively without superior in having, during a period of more than Twenty Years, justly maintained the high reputation which it has acquired for CONSUMPTIVE COMPLAINTS, and all DISEASES of the LUNGS, THROAT and CHEST. It has been used with probably greater success than any other article known, and Physicians who have had an opportunity of witnessing its healthy salutary effects, recommend it as a safe and very effective medicine, equal if not superior, to any other preparation for the above complaints within their knowledge. The Basis of this Medicine was a private recipe of a distinguished Physician in one of the neighbouring States, and was preserved by an individual to whom it gave the most astonishing relief. It is composed of vegetables, and if used according to direction, must be perfectly safe.

From Messrs. Allen & Co., Merchants, Cincinnati.—"Those persons who have used the Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam, uniformly speak of it as a valuable medicine, and from the quantity sold, notwithstanding the numerous other preparations used for similar complaints, we confides it first on the list.

Respectfully, &c., ALLEN & CO.

The Editor of the Seneca Falls Courier says—"We have had occasion to witness the good effect of the Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam in our family, in case of a young lady who has been entirely cured of Consumption by the use of it, and also in several coughs and colds, and cheerfully bear testimony to its being a safe, convenient and very efficacious medicine in cases of this description."—Ed Courier.

A Clergyman from Philadelphia writes, that he has been in the habit of using the Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam for himself and family, for the last thirteen years, and also of recommending it to his friends; and considers it an invaluable remedy for all pulmonary complaints.

"For the last five years of my practice I have had the satisfaction to witness the beneficial effects of Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam in many cases of obstinate cough and other affections of the lungs. I would therefore confidently recommend its use in all complaints of the chest, as being equal, if not superior, to any other medicine within my knowledge.

PATENTS.
American and Foreign Office

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS
WITH U. S. PATENT OFFICE,
WASHINGTON.
No. 22 State Street, . . Boston.

IN 1840 the subscriber was appointed by the Commissioner of Patents, Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, in accordance with the 10th Sec. of Act of '37.

Having relinquished the Agency for the transmission of Models, and adopted a more expeditious mode of sending them to the Patent Office, whereby a Patent may be procured about six weeks earlier the continues to forward them free of expense—to prepare Caveats, Specifications, Assignements, and all the necessary Papers and Drawings for Patents; and to render advice on legal and scientific matters respecting the same. Patents secured in Europe and other countries.

By application at this office, inventors are saved the time and expense of a journey to Washington and delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. They also have the advantage of verbally explaining their inventions, and of consulting in respect to them, matters, in general, of paramount importance in order to obtain correct expectations and claims. The experience of sixteen year's practice, an extensive collection of rare works, decisions, &c., on mechanical subjects, the Patent Laws, and patents of different countries, collected at much expense during the long time this office has been established, together with accounts here kept of inventions patented at Washington, enable the subscriber to afford inventors, despite of procuring Patents, assistance and information which in other respects might be difficult of attainment.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents.

WASHINGTON, JULY 21, 1849.—
During the time I occupied the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. EDDY, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office as Solicitor for procuring Patents. There were few, if any, persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring Inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Peace.

BY HENRY VAUGHAN.

My soul, there is a country,
Far beyond the stars,
Where stands a winged sentry,
All skillful in the wars:
There, above the noise and danger,
Sweet Peace sits crowned with smiles,
And One born in a manger
Commands the beauteous files.
He is thy gracious friend,
And—O my soul, awake!—
Did in pure love descend,
To die here for thy sake.
If thou can't get but thither,
There grows the flower of peace,
The rose that cannot wither,
Thy fortress and thy ease.
Leave, then thy foolish ranges,
For none can thee secure,
But one who never changes,
Thy God, thy life, thy cure.

"THIS HAND NEVER STRUCK ME."—We recently heard the following most touching incident. A little boy had died. His body was laid out in a darkened, retired room, waiting to be laid away in the lone cold grave.

His afflicted mother and bereaved little sister went in to look at the sweet face of the precious sleeper, for his face was beautiful, even in death. As they stood gazing upon the form of one so cherished and beloved, the little girl asked to take his hand. The mother at first did not think it best, but her child repeated the request, and seemed very anxious about it; she took the cold, bloodless hand of her sleeping boy and placed it in the hand of his weeping sister.

The dear child looked at it a moment, caressed it fondly, and then looked up to her mother, through the tears of affliction and love, and said, "Mother, THIS LITTLE HAND NEVER STRUCK ME!"

What could be more touching and lovely? Young readers, have you always been as gentle to your brothers and sisters, that were you to die, such a tribute as this could be paid to your memory? Could a brother or sister take your hand, were it cold, and say, "This hand never struck me!"

What an elevation to our grief when we are called to part with friends, to be able to remember only words and actions of mutual kindness and love. How bitter must be the sorrow, and how scalding the tears of remorse, of an unkind child, as he looks upon the cold form, or stands by the grave of a brother or sister, a father or mother, towards whom he had manifested unkindness. Let us all remember whatsoever we sow, in this respect, that shall we also reap.—[Well Spring.

A SELF MADE MAN.—In the year 1836, a young man, a mechanic, came to this place, seeking employment as a journeyman. His trade was a tin smith, he brought a letter of introduction to a citizen of this place, who, interested in his behalf, succeeded in getting employment at his business. He was without means, but by the assistance extend him he was enabled to open a small shop, where, industriously working at his trade, and adding a few articles of hardware to the stock of his shop, he did a small but prosperous business in Milwaukie. By industry and economy he was soon enabled to extend his business very much and finally become an importer of hardware. A few years of prosperous business made him independent. He then gave the superintendence of the business to others, and spent a couple of years in travelling, visiting England and other portions of Europe. He afterwards returned and purchased a valuable property in Madison, the capital of Wisconsin, which he has rendered still more valuable by erecting extensive mills, and making other judicious improvements.

He has at different times been solicited to accept of positions of honor and trust, but has uniformly declined, giving strict attention to his own private affairs until he accumulated a fortune. His integrity and well established reputation for good business habits have now brought him not only a first rate fortune, but political preferment, and a distinguished position among the magistrates of the country. We have sketched a portion of the history of Mr. Leonard J. Farwell, the Governor of Wisconsin.—[Lockport, (Illinois) Telegraph.

God has sent angels into the world, whose office it is to refresh the sorrows of the poor, and to lighten the eyes of the disconsolate.—And what greater pleasure can we have than that we should bring joy to our brother; that the tongue should be tuned with heavenly accents, and make the weary soul listen for light and ease; and when he perceives that there is such a thing in the world, and in the order of things, as comfort and joy, to begin to break out of his prison of sorrows at the door of sighs and tears, and slowly begin to melt into showers and refreshments—this is glory to the divine, and enjoyment fit for the brightest angel.—So I have seen the sun kiss the frozen earth, which was bound up with the images of death, and the colder breath of the north, and the waters break from their enclosure and melt with joy, and run in useful channels; and the flies do rise from little graves in the walls, and dance a little while in the air, to tell that joy is within, and that the great mother of creatures will open the stock of her new refreshments, becomes useful to mankind, and sings praises to her Redeemer. So is the heart of a sorrowful man under the discourse of wise comfort he breaks from the despair of the grave, and the fetters and chains of sorrow; he blesses God, and He blesses thee, and he feels life returning.

Respect for Old Age.

If there be one character more beautiful than another, it is respect for old age. If there be one thing more deserving of reverence and respect than another, it is old age. Age gathers up the sorrows and joys of a long life, and when whitening for the tomb, is an object of sublimity. The passions have ceased, hope of self has ceased, and the aged before death seek to live in the rising young. They linger with the young, as their spirits look beyond the grave. They hope for the young—they love the young—they labor for the young, and oh, how careful should the young be to reward the aged with their fresh warm hearts, to diminish the chill of ebbing life in the old. But it is said, and shame be it to our country, that disrespect and disregard for old age is the most common vice amongst us. We have good old men and women among us—let us love them, and honor and cherish them. The wisdom of the aged Nestor flowed like honey. It was by respect to old age that the Spartans won their proudest triumph o'er the polished Assyrians.

If farmers or fruit growers raise anything very remarkable, it is well to publish it for the purpose of stimulating others to make an effort.

The Latest Thirst for Territory.

It has been discovered by the publication of public documents that during the administration of Mr. Polk, a correspondence was carried on for the acquisition of Cuba by purchase, for which the administration of Mr. Polk, offered to pay to Spain, the bonus of one hundred millions of dollars.

It seems a wonder now that this correspondence should so long have slumbered in the secrecy of the public archives, instead of being brought before the people to show them to what great lengths the thirst for territory led the last loco administration, and which may be followed by the incoming administration, having the same thirst and natural instincts.

But the subject is now fairly out. Mr. Polk's administration according to its own correspondence made the wasteful and extravagant offer of any hundred million of dollars to a foreign government to be permitted to take Cuba into the family of States as a member of our Union, with all her Spaniards, Creoles and Africans, with her institution of slavery also. Such a proposition under all the circumstances, shows conclusively the insane thirst, there is for territory and the stiff determination by hook or by crook to increase the political power of slavery in the United States, for had the offer been accepted Cuba must have come in as a State with a representation in Congress equal to the State of Maine.

It should be borne in mind that during all this time the people were unaware of the projects and plans, the wasteful offers of the administration and the perils and evils it was endeavoring to fasten upon the country.

The following extracts from the letter of Mr. Buchanan to Mr. Saunders will show fully the anxious desire of Mr. Polk's administration to secure the acquisition of Cuba and the amount it was willing to pay:—

The apprehensions which existed for many years after the origin of this Government, that the extension of our federal system would endanger the Union, seem to have passed away. Experience has proved that this system of confederated republics, under which the Federal Government has charge of interests common to the whole, whilst local governments watch over the concerns of the respective States, is capable of almost indefinite extension, with increasing strength. This, however, is always subject to the qualification that the mass of the population must be of our own race, or must have been educated in the school of civil and religious liberty. With this qualification, the more we increase the number of confederated states, the greater will be the strength and security of the Union, because the more dependent for their mutual interests will the several parts be upon the whole, and the whole upon the several parts. It is true that of the 418,291 white inhabitants which Cuba contained in 1841 a very large proportion is of the Spanish race; still, many of our citizens have settled on the island, and some of them are large holders of property. Under our Government, it would speedily be Americanized, as Louisiana has been. Within the boundaries of such a federal system alone can a trade exempt from duties, and absolutely free be enjoyed. With the possession of Cuba we should have throughout the Union a free trade on a more extended scale than any which the world has ever witnessed, arousing an energy and activity of competition, which would result in a most rapid improvement in all that contributes to the welfare and happiness of the human race. What State would forego the advantages of this vast free trade with all her sisters, and places herself in lonely insulation? Nor the acquisition of Cuba would greatly strengthen our bond of union. Its possession would secure to all the States within the valley of the Mississippi and Gulf of Mexico free access to the ocean; but this security could only be preserved whilst the ship building and navigating States of the Atlantic shall furnish a navy sufficient to keep open the outlets from the Gulf to the ocean. Cuba, justly appreciating the advantages of annexation, is now ready to throw into our arms. Once, admitted, she would be entirely dependant for her prosperity, and even existence, upon her connexion with the Union whilst the rapidly increasing trade between her and the other States would shed its blessings and its benefits over the whole. Such a state of mutual dependence, resulting from the very nature of things, the world has never witnessed. This is what will ensure the perpetuity of our Union.

With all these considerations in view, the President believes that the crisis has arrived when an effort should be made to purchase the island of Cuba from Spain, and he has determined to entrust you with the performance of this most delicate and important duty. The attempt should be made in the first instance in a confidential conversation with the Spanish Minister for foreign Affairs; a written offer might produce an absolute refusal in writing, which would embarrass us hereafter in the acquisition of the island. Besides, from the incessant changes in the Spanish cabinet and policy, our desire to make the purchase might thus be made known in an official form to foreign Governments, and arouse their jealousy and active opposition. Indeed, even if the present Cabinet should think favorably of the proposition, they might be greatly embarrassed by having it placed on record: for in that event it would almost certainly, through some channel, reach the opposition and become the subject of discussion in the Cortes. Such delicate negotiations, at least in their incipient stages, ought always to be conducted in confidential conversation, and with the utmost secrecy and despatch.

At your interview with the Minister for Foreign Affairs you might introduce the subject by referring to the present distracted condition of Cuba, and the danger which exists that the population will make an attempt to accomplish a revolution. This must be well known to the Spanish Government. In order to convince him of the good faith and friendship towards Spain with which this Government has acted, you might read to him the first part of my despatch to General Campbell, and the order issued by the Secretary of war to the Commanding General in Mexico, and to the officer having charge of the embarkation of our troops at Vera Cruz. You may then touch delicately upon the danger that Spain may lose Cuba by a revolution in the island, or that it may be wrested from her by Great Britain, should a rupture take place between the two countries arising out of the dismissal of Sir Henry Bulwer, and be retained to pay the Spanish debt due to the British bondholders. You might assure him that, whilst this Government is entirely satisfied that Cuba shall remain under the dominion of Spain, we should in any event, resist its occupation by any other nation. And, finally, you might inform him that, under all these circumstances, the President had arrived at the conclusion that Spain might be willing to transfer the island to the United States for a fair and full consideration. You might cite as a precedent for such a transaction the cession of Louisiana to this country by France under somewhat similar circumstances. That whole territory was at the time of its purchase in a wilderness state. I have merely presented these views in their natural order, and you can adopt such as in your judgment you may deem most proper.

It should be borne in mind that during all this time the people were unaware of the projects and plans, the wasteful offers of the administration and the perils and evils it was endeavoring to fasten upon the country.

Destructive Fire in Lowell.

A slip from the office of the Lowell Daily Morning News, states that just before four o'clock Thursday morning, one of the carriers of News, while going his rounds discovered a fire in the Flannel Mills better known as Stott's Mills, Belvidere side. An alarm was instantly raised, but before the fire department could be got on the ground, the flames had gained such headway that little or nothing could be done to arrest their progress. The Flannel Mill were entirely destroyed. The fire communicated to the near mill, owned by Comins & Crosby, and occupied as a dedetsad manufactory, erected on the site of Crosby's old turning mill which was also destroyed by the fire of last year. The building was of wood, three stories high, and together with all the machinery, (among which was a large new steam engine), and stock was entirely consumed. Only a few tools were saved.

A stone house next south of the Flannel mill was also burnt, but quite an amount of woollen and some bales of flannel were saved. North of the mill was another wooden building occupied by the Flannel Company, for a sorting, dyeing and packing room, and for a workshop connected with the dyeing department. This was all consumed.

The mill was owned by a company, of which Mr Stott was half owner, the remainder being in Boston hands. The loss to the Flannel Co. has not been ascertained.

The mill and machinery, were insured for $5000 in the Manufacturer's office, Boston. The stock in the storehouse and mill was insured in two of the Hartford offices, and the North Western office, New York. The loss of Messrs Comins & Crosby is estimated at from $4000 to $5000.

The body of Mr James Law, who has been employed as a watchman on the premises for the past four years, was found in a shockingly disfigured condition among the ruins of the fire. The head and feet were entirely burned away, and the trunk, discovered among the remains of a lot of flannel which had fallen there from the 2d story.

The origin of the fire is not known. It is said that there were no stoves within thirty or forty feet of where it was discovered, and it is thot by some to be the work of an incendiary.

We understand that in addition to the other losses, a Mr Heneage lost about $2000 worth of machinery, situated in the basement of Crosby's building. No insurance.

The Valley of the Amazon.

An interesting article in relation to the Amazon and the Atlantic slopes of South America, has appeared in the Washington Union. It is chiefly geographical, but nevertheless embodies some interesting facts. We subjoin a few paragraphs:

"The republic of Paraguay lies between the parallels of 22 degrees and 28 degrees south latitude. It may be said therefore to be extra-trophical.

The Brazilian province of Matto Grosso lies between the parallel of 7 deg. south and the Tropic of Capricorn. It is inter-tropical. Its productions, therefore, it may be supposed, are different in many respects from those of Paraguay.

This province, in its greatest length and breadth, measures 16 deg. of latitude of 16 deg. of longitude.

Passing midway through it on a zigzag course from east to west is the great water divide, which separates the waters of the Amazon from the waters of the Rio de la Plata. From one end of this ridge to the other, from the Atlantic to the Andes, gold, diamonds and precious stones are dug from its sides or washed from its streams.

On the northern slopes of it the Tocantins, the Chingo, the Tapogos, and the Madure, tributaries to the Amazon, and larger than any of the rivers of Europe, take their rise. Also the Paranahiba, which empties directly into the Atlantic, has its sources among the northern ravines of this auriferous slope.

On its southern declivities the fountain heads of the Parana and Paraguay are found sending forth bright sparkling steams, which, like threads of silver, are seen winding their way through thornless luxuriant vegetation, and over sands of gold and pebble interspersed with brilliants, to unite and swell out into the mighty river of silver, as the La Plata is called.

Let us therefore leave the country of old Francia for that of Matto Grosso and Brazil.

The traveller leaving the republic, and ascending the Paraguay to the celebrated gold and diamond region of Matto Grosso, finds on either hand as he goes up a charming country, diversified with pampas and grove of great beauty and extent.

Turning up the Mercengo, which closes in from the east, and ascending the same for seventy or eighty miles, he comes to the village of Miranda.

The people in the neighborhood are industrious. They raise large herds of cattle and great numbers of horses. They manufacture great abundance of the finest hats, ponchos, hammocks, and cotton fabrics. The chief industrial and manufacturing family of the district consists of the descendants of 100 years.

Ascending the Cayaba, which is a large navigable tributary of the Paraguay, he comes to the city of Cuyaba, the capital of the province of Matto Grosso. It has a population of about 8,000. It carries on a brisk commerce with Rio de Janeiro, numbering from 200 to 300 mules each. This commerce consists of hides, jaguar and deer skins, gold dust, diamonds, ipecacuanha, and the like. The freight to Rio is almost $15 the 100 pounds.

Here, perhaps, among all the wonderful things that are found in these great river basins of S. America, is the most wonderful of all, a city, the capital of a province larger than all of the Old Thirteen States of the confederacy put together, and occupying on the banks of the La Plata very nearly the relative position which St. Louis occupies on the bank of the Mississippi, carrying on its commerce not by steam and water, but by the mule road, and over such a distance from the sea-coast, that the time occupied by each caravan in going and returning, is from ten to twelve months.

That this state of things should, in the middle of the 19th century, be found to exist in the middle of South America, upon one of the finest of steamboat water courses in the world, whose navigable tributaries are owned by no less than five separate and independent nations, and which the policy of commerce has not yet demanded to be thrown wide open to navigation and commerce, will in after times be regarded as more wonderful than any other reality of this wonderful region.

Nay, Brazil had, within a stone's throw of this very capital, and by easy portage, the navigable waters of her own Amazon, and yet so fearful has she been that the steamboat on those waters would reveal to the world the exceeding great riches of this province, that we have here re-enacted under our own eyes a worse than Japanese policy, for it excludes from settlement and cultivation, from commerce and civilization, the finest country in the world—a country which is larger than the continent of Europe, and in which there is an everlasting harvest of the choicest fruits of the earth.

Cuyaba is in the midst of the gold region.—The metal is found in veins, among the pebbles at the bottom of the brooks, and in fine grains in the soil. After every rain the servants and children may be seen gathering it from the washings of the streets in Cuyaba.

They get in this city a drug from the Amazon, called guaraba, of which the consumption is enormous, and to which medicinal virtues the most astonishing are ascribed.

On the head waters of the Cuyaba is the celebrated diamond district of Brazil; and though in the day of sober realities it cannot be said that the city of Diamentina, the principal village of the district, has had streets paved with diamonds, yet these jewels are found there mixed with the earth, like gold in the diggings of California.

Just before Castelnau was there, a man planting a post to which to tie his mule, found a diamond of nine carats. The children here wash the earth in the streets for gold, and diamonds are sometimes found in the crops of the fowls.

This stone is found in the bottom of the rivers, and the most celebrated for it are the Ouro, the Diamentino, and the Santa Anna, in their whole length; the Areias, the San Francisco, (of which there are three,) and on the Paraguay itself for a considerable distance down the main stream.

The Samidouro, which is on the Amazonian side of the ridge, is said also to be exceedingly rich in diamonds.

A Spaniard, one Don Simon, with his slaves, washing on the Santa Anna during the dry season only got in four years, seven thousand carats of diamonds.

Castelnau estimates the whole yield of diamonds from Brazil to the end of 1849 at near $80,000,000.

It is the mineral wealth of this water shed between the La Plata and the Amazon, operating with its gold and its diamonds upon the cupidity of her counsellors, and has been the curse of Brazil.

At first the diamonds belonged to the Crown, and no person was allowed to visit the diamond district unless under the strictest surveillance. Military posts were established throughout the whole region to prevent people from gathering its mineral wealth.

Suppose the United States had established military posts in California to prevent the people from going there and digging for gold, what would have been the condition of that State now in comparison to what it is? It would have been like what the interior of Brazil now is.

Thrice-Weekly Journal, for 1853.

While its principal object will be to give a more extended report of Legislative debates and proceedings than can be done in a weekly paper, it will at the same time contain the important news of the day, and a fair share of miscellaneous matter.

To the public generally, the proceedings of the coming session will be of great interest. The organization of the two branches, the election of Governor, and of United States Senator, will be attended with more than ordinary concern, from the fact that the Maine Liquor Law question will be connected, to a great degree, with all of them—and will, perhaps, influence the minds of many members, to the exclusion of political considerations. Hence will consequently be much curiosity felt in the daily proceedings of the two branches, in these respects.

Important railroad questions will also come up for consideration, and elicit debates of a character interesting to all.

Upon our Whig friends we need not urge the importance of having a Whig Legislative paper. It has ever been appreciated by them, although not usually so well supported as it should be. We hope that our friends will this year make an increased effort to sustain it.

The Thrice-Weekly Journal will be published on Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings—alternating with the Thrice-Weekly Age, and thus furnishing a daily Legislative paper. The price will be one dollar for the session; as usual,—payable in advance.

The postage on the paper, under the new law, will be very much reduced—in fact merely nominal. It will be sent to regular subscribers in any part of the State, for one-fourth of a cent per copy, or about ten cents for the session, if paid in advance.

It is desirable that the names of subscribers, accompanied with the money, should be sent in, a week, at least, before the session commences. Editors with whom we exchange, will confer a favor by giving the above a few insertions.

WHEELER & SIMPSON.

Augusta, Nov. 15, 1852.

Good Taste. The following very happy and equally true sketch is from The London Quarterly:—

"You see this lady turning a cold eye to the assurances of shopmen and the recommendation of milliners. She cares not how original a pattern may be, if it be ugly, or how recent a shape if it be awkward. Whatever fashion dictates, she follows of her own, and to never behind it. She wears very beautiful things which people generally suppose to be brought from Paris, or at least made by a French milliner, but which as often are brought from the nearest town, and made up by her own maid. Nor has her costume in either robe or new—on the contrary, she wears many a cheap dress, but it is always good. She deals in no gaudy confusion of colors, nor does she affect a studied sobriety; but she strives to please you with a united contrast, or compose you with judicious harmony. Not a scrap of lace or trimming, not a bow or knot can she find room for, so faith in every part of her dress, so skilful in its disposition of its various parts, so delicate in its combinations, so finished and complete in its every detail, that you will urge your friends to do the same.

We do not doubt that such will be the result when the not yet known remedy fairly and fully be known to, and in common use for kidney-ing you this particularly is that the no other may not be overlooked in the press of daily business, and that you may give the subject attention in time to be fully prepared.

We inclose to a General Circular, and also a form of Application for Space, to which we beg your attention. Any of those or this letter, if you desire them, to send to your friends or correspondents, can be had at this office.

In order that we may know on what extent of co-operation we may depend, the favor of a reply immediately is asked.

I have the honor to be, with great respect, your obedient servant,

THEODORE SEDGWICK, President.

Crystal Palace----Circular to

I address you in behalf of the Association for the Exhibition of the Industry of all Nations, to invite your co-operation in the general objects of the enterprize.

The building intended for the purposes of the Exhibition, constructed entirely of iron and glass, will be, it is believed, one of the most beautiful edifices in the country. It covers, on the ground floor, two and a half acres, and, with the galleries, the whole space is four acres. The mason work is far advanced, and will be completed on the 21st October. The main part of the iron work is contracted for, and the castings are to be delivered from the 15th October to the 15th of December. We have it in our power, therefore, to assure you, as we have already stated to the public, that the Exhibition will certainly be opened on the 2d of May, 1853.

You are thus offered an unequalled opportunity of exhibiting to the vast population of this country such of your productions as you send us, free of all charge, of every kind whatever, from the time that they are delivered into our custody until withdrawn.

The Association has already announced that their objects are limited exclusively to exhibition. They have no interest whatever, direct or indirect, in the final disposition to be made of any article that may be displayed.

You are, no doubt, aware that we have received all the assistance from the public authorities that we have desired. The Crystal Palace is on the legend square, the State has granted us a charter, and the Federal authorities have assigned that the building shall be made a Bonded Warehouse for the purpose of receiving foreign articles without paying duty as long as they remain in it.

We have the strongest assurances of support from all the representatives, in this country, of the principal foreign powers; and we are receiving daily confirmation of the general interest that the subject is exciting among the manufacturers of Europe. A large number of articles of high value are already secured, and we have no doubt whatever that all or almost all of our mark if we do not equally succeed in obtaining the full, at and most extensive co-operation of American industry. Our Exhibition would be extremely defective—it would be very inferior, both in interest and in utility, to what we mean to make it—if the great resources of the people of our own country were not fully displayed in it.

We believe it to be unnecessary to urge upon you the arguments on this subject, which we are sure will present themselves to the mind of every intelligent American producer—your position in the world of American Industry, your own interest, and what is of more importance, the honor and interest to be carried out with no narrow views, but on a large scale of public usefulness—all entitle us to entertain the fullest conviction that you will send us some of the choicest specimens of your skill, and that you will urge your friends to do the same.

We do not doubt that such will be the result when the not yet known remedy fairly and fully be known to, and in common use for kidney-ing you this particularly is that the no other may not be overlooked in the press of daily business, and that you may give the subject attention in time to be fully prepared.

We inclose to a General Circular, and also a form of Application for Space, to which we beg your attention. Any of those or this letter, if you desire them, to send to your friends or correspondents, can be had at this office.

In order that we may know on what extent of co-operation we may depend, the favor of a reply immediately is asked.

I have the honor to be, with great respect, your obedient servant,

THEODORE SEDGWICK, President.

Circular.

The following certificate from Dr. John C Warren of Boston, was given 16 years since, but will last forever:

Boston, January 7, 1835

Having had occasion to observe that some persons afflicted with Hernia, have suffered much from the want of a skillful workman in apportioning Trusses to the peculiarities of their cases, I have taken pains to inform myself of the competency of Mr J. F. Foster, to supply the deficiency occasioned by the death of Mr. Smith. After some months of observation of his work, am well satisfied that Mr Foster is well acquainted with the manufacture of these instruments, and judicious in accomodating them to the variety of cases which occur. I feel called upon to recommend him to my professional brethren, and to the public as a person well fitted to supply their wants as regards these important articles.

JOHN C. WARREN, M D, Boston.

The undersigned having occasion to employ Mr. J. Frederick Foster, of Boston, in making and fitting Trusses for the relief of Hernia, takes great pleasure in recommending him to the favorable notice of such persons as may be afflicted with that and similar complaints. Mr Foster's success in the manufacture and adopting them to the body, giving ease and comfort to the wearer, surpass (as far as our experience goes,) any other manufacturer of the article

The numerous testimonials, which he has received together with the recommendations of that eminent surgeon, Dr'd C Warren, are sufficient guaranty for all who may favor Mr F, that this instrument will give entire satisfaction, and he will always allow reasonable demands for an equitable compensation. In this Preparation is the true meaning of word PEPSIN. It is the chief element, or digestive Principle of the Gastric Juice—the solvent of the Faculties. Preparing, and Sustaining Agent of the Stomach and Intestines. It is extracted from the Digestive Fluid, in such of the Ox, then forming a TRUE DIGESTIVE FLUID, precisely like that found in the human stomach. DR. MORSE'S
INVIGORATING CORDIAL!

FOR GENITAL DEBILITY, IMPOTENCY, INCONTINANCE, OR NOCTURNAL EMISSIONS &c. The astonishing success which has attended the invaluable medicine, Dr Morse's Invigorating Cordial, and General Emetic, in curing the consequences of youthful indiscretion, or indulgence of the passion in riper years, renders it the most valuable preparation ever discovered. In fact in a few cases of the above complaints it stands unrivalled and alone. Every other advertisable remedy, or any that has authentically received sanction of the Medical Faculty. The WONDERFUL VEGETABLE PRODUCTION of which this medicine is composed has been tested, and its virtues proclaimed by the highest names of the faculty of London, Paris, and the other cities of Europe, as well as by eminent Physicians in this country. It is the only infallible remedy for NERVOUS, HEAD, and MIND COMPLAINTS—the mental physic so long sought for and never before found, the only agent that can administer to MIND DISEASES. It will remove all nervous affections, DEPRESSION, EXCITEMENT, incapacity to study or business, loss of MEMORY CONFUSION, thoughts of Self Destruction, fear of insanity, &c. It will restore the appetite, renew the health of those who have destroyed it by Sensual Excesses, or evil practices; it has been said by some that these disorders, emissions, &c., were incurable. This however is not the fact: DR. MORSE'S INVIGORATING CORDIAL, has, and is constantly curing these complaints rendering the mental and bodily incapacity of the unfortunate sufferer, as the following testimony of the names received will conclusively show:

Dr. J. Woodward, of the Massachusetts Issane Hospital, writes of one of his patients being cured by using this cordial, thus:—"It gives me pleasure to inform you that one of my patients, while in Boston, procured some of your Cordial. He tells me that he has not had a nocturnal emission since he commenced taking it, while before he had two or three a week. When he applied to me, says Dr. W., I thought it hardly possible for him ever to regain the full strength I prescribed the usual medicine used in those cases in the hospital, but after he saw its effect. In the meantime he purchased some of your Cordial, which has effected a cure I am sure no other medicine would. I shall never recommend whenever an opportunity occurs."

The nature of the maladies relieved by this Cordial are generally such as to leave the publication of certificates of cures out of the question, and the proprietor could produce a host of the most conclusive testimony to show that the great reputation it enjoys was not accidentally obtained, but is firmly based upon its positive and apparently mira culous virtues. In all directions are to be found the happy parents of healthy offsprings, who would not have been so blest for this extraordinary preparation. And it is equally potent for many diseases for which it is recommended.

THE MEDICAL JOURNALS

have but in a single instance that has been authenticated, given their sanction to any other preparation for the above complaints. It has, in many violent and desperate cases, effected radical cures, after patients had been abandoned, and their condition pronounced hopeless by medical practitioners of high professional character.

THE COMMON EXPRESSION

Of those who have used this Extract is—"I had heard your Cordial highly spoken of, but was one of the incredulous in regard to its merits, having tried various medicines sold for the same purpose, (different Sarsaparillas) without deriving any benefit. I had almost given up all hope of obtaining relief, when I purchased some of your Cordial. I had no faith whatever, of its benefiting me—but it has. I feel stronger, have had no emissions since, although it is not three weeks I am satisfied the half a dozen bottles I took will cure me."

Another says—"I had consulted several distinguished physicians at home, who said I could not be cured, others prescribed this and that, but I found no relief until I procured some of your Cordial. I almost say it completely cured me."

Another says—"I was surprised at the effect your Cordial had. Why had I not heard of it before? It would have saved me so much expense, besides years of mental and bodily suffering."

CAUTION—Ask for Dr. Morse's Cordial and take no other, as there are worthless imitations which its unrivalled excellence, fame and popularity, have brought into the market. It will not hurt the most delicate female but do good. Beware of all other Cordials, &c., (as I by only this.

It is put up in tiny bottles, with the words Dr. Morse's Vigorating Cordial, blown on the glass. Price $1 per bottle; 2 bottles $5; 6 bottles $12; and $24 per dozen.

N. B. Important advice accompanying each bottle.

Nervous Persons conscious of physical inability from causes above named may confidentially consult Dr. Morse personally or by letter (post paid) at his office, 78 Sudbury street, Boston, for necessary advice and medicine for the speedy restoration of such disability will be safely forwarded to the writer's address.

Dr. M. is prepared to warrant a perfect cure in every case or take no pay.

HERE IS YOUR REMEDY!
HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

Extract of a Letter from Mr. William Galpin, of 70, St. Mary's Street, Weymouth, dated May 15th, 1851.

To Professor Holloway,

SIR,—At the age of 18 my wife (who is now 61) caught a violent cold, which settled in her legs, and ever since that time they have been more or less sore, and greatly inflamed. Her agonies were distracting, and for months together she was deprived entirely of rest and sleep. Every remedy that medical men advised was tried, but without effect; her health suffered severely, and the state of her legs was terrible. I had often read your advertisements, and advised her to try your Pills and Ointment; and as a last resource, after every other remedy had proved useless, she consented to do so. She commenced six weeks ago, and strange to relate, is now in good health. Her legs are painless, without scam or scar, and her sleep sound and undisturbed. Could you have witnessed the sufferings of my wife during the last 43 years, and contrast them with her present enjoyment of health, you would indeed feel delighted in having been the means of so greatly alleviating the sufferings of a fellow creature.

(Signed) WILLIAM GALPIN.

A PERSON 70 YEARS OF AGE CURED OF A BAD LEG, OF THIRTY YEARS' STANDING.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Wm. Abbs, Builder of Gas Ovens of Rushcliffe, near Huddersfield, dated May 31 1851.

To Professor Holloway.

SIR,—I suffered for a period of thirty years from a bad leg; the result of two or three different accidents at Gas Works, accompanied by scorbutic symptoms. I had recourse to a variety of medical advice, without deriving any benefit, and was even told that the leg must be amputated, yet, in opposition to that opinion, your Pills and Ointment have effected a complete cure in a short time, that few who had not witnessed it would credit the fact. (Signed) WILLIAM ABBS.

The truth of this statement can be verified by Mr Kay, of England, Chemist, 13, Market street, Huddersfield.

A DREADFUL BAD BREAST CURED IN ONE MONTH.

Extract of a letter from Mr. Frederick Turner, of Penshurst, Kent, dated December 13th, 1850.

To Professor Holloway,

DEAR SIR,—My wife had suffered from bad Breasts for more than six months, and during the whole period had the best medical attendance, but all to no use. Having before healed an awful wound in my own leg by your unrivalled medicine, I determined again to use your Pills and Ointment, and therefore gave them a trial to her case, and fortunate it was I did so, for in less than a month a perfect cure was effected, and the benefit that your other branches of my family have derived from their use is really astonishing. I now strongly recommend them to all my friends.

(Signed) FREDERICK TURNER.

The Pills should be used conjointly with the Ointment in most of the following cases:

Bad Legs	Corns (Soft)	Scalds
Bad Breasts	Cancers	Sore Nipples

Self Acquired Fame!
DR. JOHNSON'S
AMERICAN ANODYNE LINIMENT.
For Internal and External Use.

THIS wonderful Medicine, notwithstanding it has never had the advantage of newspaper publicity, has yet acquired a higher and more extended popularity than any other similar compound in the world. It is entirely of vegetable extract, perfectly safe to be administered even to the most delicate child; and alike astonishing and satisfactory in its effects upon man or beast. To those unacquainted with this invaluable medicine we say, Give it a fair trial, and we promise you a radical cure of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Influenza, Spitting of Blood, and all Lung Complaints; Chronic Diarrhœa, and Dysentary. In all of which cases it should be used internally. The effects of its external application in cases of Rheumatism, Spinal Diseases Sprains, Chapped Hands, Bruises, Burns, and all descriptions of wounds, are magical.

Persons troubled with Cramp in the Stomach, Side, or Bowels, Sore Throat, Piles, &c., by a combined internal and external application of this Anodyne, cannot fail of certain and speedy cure. The proprietor can produce volumes of testimonials in its favor, but prefers to let it carry its own recommendations as it has done for thirty years past. We ask no man to use it after an unsatisfactory trial. In its composition it unites several of the most penetrating and healing specifics known to the materia medica.—The inventor of this article was in the constant and successful practice of medicine for more than twenty years.

This is to certify that having been troubled for a number of years with a distressing cough, and bleeding at the lungs, and receiving no benefit from medical aid, in 1848 I was so far reduced as to be in the first stage of consumption. My legs swelled so that I was unable to stand. I began to help myself. At that time your Liniment was providentially recommended to me, and by the use of three or four bottles I was entirely cured, and have since been able to labor every day. I have also for the last twenty years been subject to severe attacks of bloody dysentery, and never found any permanent relief until I took your Liniment, since which I have had no return of this complaint. I can truly say I think your Anodyne Liniment was the means of saving my life. JOHN T. ATKINS,

Brewer, Sept 20, 1852.

Dr Johnson: Dear Sir—In consequence of having a fever sore on my leg, it became entirely stiff at the knee, and it was decided by the best surgeons in Boston at the Dr's Hospital, that unless I could get my leg relaxed by some means or other, it would be amputated. I heard of your Anodyne Liniment, and by using three bottles, my leg was limbered and strengthened, and for a number of years I have been able to use it about as well as the other. I considered myself indebted to the use of your Liniment, through the blessing of Providence, for the use of my limb, and would say to others who may need help in this way, try it, and no doubt you will be cured.
